At Smithink we are firm believers in the power of information sharing - many firms have benefited from sharing ideas, insights and experiences with other firms. However, group coaching sessions or meetings can be expensive with the cost of time and travel. So we've developed a solution... a resource that allows you to interact and collaborate with other like-minded professionals to share information and insights, without the time and cost burden of travel – from your own offices.

"The Smithink Online Collaboration Network provides a great opportunity to share ideas and discuss openly and honestly, the common issues and challenges confronted daily by small to medium accounting firms and their principals. The agenda is a simple forum to bounce ideas and help each other".
Rick Pickering, GMG Financial Group

"Since joining the Online Collaboration network, we have gained some very valuable insights from other practitioners in accounting firms across the country who are facing similar challenges, opportunities and threats that we are facing. We highly recommend O.C.N." .
Glenn Sharp, Sharp Accounting
